

Changing Fate

(R. Grosch, B. Steingass, M. Steingass)

Giving birth to death
I need to change your fate
Love must give a way deeper now my heart

I cry
I see you're free
with tears

Although you fade away
Although you leave
Even when I loose it all

try not hold
I give you all I have I'll need no more

the waters cover me
this deepness is my home
(a) darkness crowns my head
I wish you love I wish you life

no way
so true for you
for ever

Although you fade away
Although you leave
Even when I loose it

try not hold
I give you all
I need no more

— — — — —

Although you fade away
Although you leave
Even when I loose it

try not hold
I give you all
I hear you calling our names

Destination

(R. Grosch, B. Steingass, M. Steingass)

The wind blows where it wants Nothing that I can come see Love falls where it wants
It's not what we can head

It's like the little birds
Nothing what we can drive
Like the wild flower
So bitter-sweet

Let love stay alive
That's all we can do
Let love stay alive
Give me the sweetest taboo

We don't know where we go Nothing to reach I see
The path is nowhere seen
But I know it's there

I feel gladness
Nothing I can come see
A mighty range of silence
Nothing we won't leave

Let love stay alive
That's all we can do

The Fall

(R. Grosch, B. Steingass, M. Steingass)

No one knows what color you have

No one knows what you will be `cause your life is a dream we need

'cause our life is all going wrong

No one even knows what voice you have

No one even knows what your thoughts will be

Cause your life needs a new idea

About the meaning and what to do

So don't fool around

So don't fool around

So don't fool around

Fool around, fool fool around

No one knows what change will come

No one knows how it will be done

Another thought will open up to us

And light the world with glow
